- ❖ Night Nurses - Hiring a night nurse is a great way to ensure new parents get enough rest and are able to carry on facing the days.
- ❖ Maternity Nurse -A maternity nurse is an experienced practitioner who will care for mum and baby while assisting to develop a routine for the newborn.

Please enquire about a full range of post natal care options at info@thebirthclinic.co.uk.

Forum – The Birth Clinic (TBC) recently launched The Birth Clinic Forum. The TBC Forum is an online community of expecting parents, new parents and experienced parents. This online community provides a place to seek advice, make suggestions or to make a posting on anything maternity-related. If you have a question, why not ask someone on the TBC Forum.

Refer a Friend – Whether you are a current patient, a past patient or just a fan of The Birth Clinic, why not be rewarded for referring a friend. Drop us an email at info@thebirthclinic.co.uk if someone you know would be interested in learning more about our services. Please provide the person's name, contact details and email address. If they become a client* we will send you a £50 voucher for either John Lewis or Mother Care.
